Background

The Edinburgh International Book Festival brings leading and emerging Scottish, UK, and international authors and thinkers together to inspire each other and audiences through an extensive programme of public events, including conversation, interactive activities, and performance. The Book Festival takes place in person in Edinburgh but has a significant digital offering to reach authors and audiences around the world.

The Book Festival has a reputation as a powerful forum for the public to exchange views with writers and experts on a wide range of issues: social, ethical, and political as well as literary and cultural. At the heart of the Book Festival's activity is an integrated approach to creative learning and education, with the aim of expanding participation in democratic discussion, fostering a love of reading and developing engaged, knowledgeable audiences of all ages and backgrounds.

The Children's Programme - comprising author events, activities, and workshops - is produced for young audiences of all ages, from babies to teenagers. In addition, an extensive Schools' Programme is created for primary and secondary pupils, as well as teachers, with thousands of school children attending each year. All tickets to schools' events are free, and each child goes home with a free book.

Through our Communities Programme we bring local people and organisations from across Scotland together with professional writers and artists to have big conversations, unearth new stories and provide a space for everyone's voice to be heard. As an organisation of local, national, and international reach, we shine a light on underrepresented communities, supporting them to develop their voices through cultural activity.

The Box Office team

The Box Office comprises the Manager, Schools Booking Coordinator, Supervisors, and increasing numbers of sales staff in the run-up to the Festival. The Box Office can be very busy - during June and the Festival, staff can work long days in six or seven day weeks. The Box Office operates on the Red61 ticketing system.

The Role

June – July

The Box Office opens in early June: the phone room and admin office are in the Book Festival offices at 121 George Street. There is an advance booking period for sponsors and Friends of the Book Festival. The opening day of public booking usually sees an extremely high demand and involves a large-scale operation. Tickets are sold through phones and web until August when a box office counter opens on site.

Festival

The Box Office counter sales operation moves to the Edinburgh Futures Institute on Lauriston Place for the duration of the Festival in August. During this period, the Box Office supervisors will work on a duty management shift system with the Box Office Manager.

The post will be line-managed by the Box Office Manager.

Key Responsibilities

- Supervision of all daily operations, ensuring staff are well-supported and correct procedures are being followed at all times
- Assisting with training of Box Office staff
- Selling tickets using the Red61 ticketing system, often covering assistants' breaks or providing extra cover on phones or counter as required
- Resolving customer queries by phone, email or in person, and providing excellent customer care at all times
- Administration of the Red61 ticketing system including changes to event data, set-up of new events or ticket offers, scheduling regular reports, and ensuring staff maintain high standards of accuracy in customer data entry
- Processing non-public bookings for groups such as sponsors, Festival participants, guests and industry professionals and corresponding with these bookers as required
- During the Festival, supervision of the Box Office counter and information point, queue management, administration of returns queues for sold out events, maintaining information screen displays and resolving customer issues occurring on-site
- Engage in sustainable practices while in the workplace and adhere to the Book Festival's environmental sustainability policies
- Any other duties as required by the Box Office Manager

Person Specification

This is an ideal development opportunity for candidates wishing to build on existing Box Office experience, either at supervisor or assistant level, in a world class festival environment.

The successful candidate will possess the following:

Essential

- Box Office experience or customer service experience (preferably 2 years or 2 festival contracts)
- Exceptional customer service skills and the ability to effectively handle any queries or complaints
- Previous experience of supervising, training and mentoring staff in a customer-facing environment
- Strong communication skills and the ability to diplomatically resolve customer issues
- Excellent administration skills, IT competency and a high level of accuracy and attention to detail
- Ability to work on own initiative and as part of a team, and to lead and motivate others
- A positive, flexible attitude and calm manner under pressure

Desirable

- Knowledge of the Red61 ticketing system would be an advantage
- Previous experience in a festival or similar arts environment

Staff welfare

The Book Festival has developed an open and active staff welfare culture and is committed to making everyone feel safe, welcome, and included. An Employee Assistance Package is available which offers a variety of levels of counselling, one-to-one personal support, and resilience tools, along with personal legal and financial advice and family support. Members of staff have chosen to be trained in First Aid for Mental Health, ensuring awareness of staff well-being is embedded in our culture. We have a Safer Spaces Policy, which actively promotes a culture where everyone's experience (staff, artists, associates, and visitors) is valued, and no-one is made to feel unsafe or excluded.

Terms and conditions

The post is based at our offices, 121 George Street, Edinburgh; satellite locations as required; and at the Festival site at the Edinburgh Futures Institute during August. Normal hours of work are 09:30 – 17:30, Monday to Friday during June, apart from the Friends Advanced Booking weekend when staff will be required to work on Saturday 15 and Sunday 16 June 2024.

Additional hours will be required during the Festival itself, when staff should expect to work a six or seven day week (most staff are usually scheduled to have two days off during the Festival). Rotas are issued in advance of the Festival.

The rate of pay for this position will be £13.88 per hour. Wages are paid weekly in arrears by bank transfer.

Edinburgh International Book Festival will auto enrol you in their NEST pension scheme 3 months from the start date of your employment. You can choose to join the scheme from the start date of your employment. You can get further details of the scheme from the Head of Operations & Finance.

Equal opportunities

The Edinburgh International Book Festival is an equal opportunities employer and a Real Living Wage employer. Our work is framed by a commitment to a commitment to Equality, Diversity, and Inclusion.

The Book Festival is a working environment where everyone is treated fairly, and our differences are celebrated as strengths. We encourage applicants with diverse backgrounds and experiences to apply. If you have any specific access requirements, please let us know and we will do our best to meet your needs.

How to apply

Please read the job description carefully and complete the online application using the links on our website: <https://www.edbookfest.co.uk/about-us/jobs>.

Please ensure you upload a copy of your current CV (no more than two pages) and an application letter outlining your suitability for the role and why you wish to work at the Book Festival. You may include any other information that supports your application, and we ask that you provide two recent professional references.
